HOW MEN PROPOSE

THE PRIVATE SECRETARY.

RECOLLECTIONS BY SIR ALGERNON WEST.
London: Smith, Elder, 1899. 21s.

On laying down these pleasant and amusing volumes it is easy to understand why Sir Algernon West was such a success. In 1851 he entered the Inland Revenue Department as a temporary clerk at 6s. a day, and it seems but yesterday that he quitted it as Chairman and a K.C.B. But men never understand what they have done themselves. On an early page in the first volume the author says, with explicit reference to Mr. Dodson, afterwards Lord Monk Bretton, and with plainly implied reference to Mr. Childers, "through life I have often wondered at the success of some men whose qualifications did not seem to justify it." Yet Sir Algernon need not have wondered, if he had strictly examined himself as to the secret of his own advancement. Sir George Cornwallis Lewis observed, with his profound, if cynical, sagacity that "every man was also adequately qualified to perform the duties of an office which he was never enough to get." Nothing is easier to preach, and nothing is harder to practice. Only to be equal to getting on, make yourself pleasant to the world, and the world will make itself pleasant to you, is the formula, which sounds simple and obvious enough, but is in reality so difficult to attain, that few men have been able to do it. Sir Algernon West, however, has been thoroughly successful in this. He has been a success in every sense of the word, and his story is a most interesting and instructive one. It is a story of a man who has been successful in every sense of the word, and his story is a most interesting and instructive one. It is a story of a man who has been successful in every sense of the word, and his story is a most interesting and instructive one.

would be 'terrified' if the author of 'rampage' was made guardian of the public purse. As a recolleur, Sir Algernon West is a fearless retailer of anecdotes, a dangerous business as it brings him sometimes into direct conflict with other parvoyses of many articles, such as Sir William Fraser. The latter for instance has told us in his book on Disraeli that the aged statesman, whenever he met someone whose name he could not remember, used to ask (Well, how's the old complaint?) Sir Algernon cites this popular anecdote as an example of Lord Palmerston's brilliant. There is a delicate satire about the question which is more characteristic of Lord Beaconsfield than Lord Palmerston, who as a rule was curiously humorous, though there is real wit in his reply to the question that came to him to propose a National Portrait Gallery and to protest against works of art being put in the cellars of Burlington House. 'Well,' said Palmerston, 'I will do what I can, but you know that "rampage" returns to the subject of the best of Sir Algernon's stories is the reply of Lord Granville's chief to an inquiry during the siege of Paris whether he would like to be back in his own country. 'No,' said the book, 'I could never make entries here then sitting in Paris.' As a specimen of then sitting in Paris, a specimen of Alfred Montgomery's old-world humour are given the following: 'On an inquiring hot day the Chairman's private secretary came into the Board-room with his coat off. Montgomery was much shocked, and as the secretary was leaving the room he called him back and said: "My man, if you should find it convenient in this hot weather to take off your trousers pray do not let any feeling of respect for the Board stand in your way." That Sir Algernon appreciates a real touch of horror may be seen from this story. During Sir George Trevelyan's first visit to the Secretary's Lodge in Phoenix Park, he went to the window and pushed aside the curtain, and underneath its folds lay the blood-stained coat of poor Frederick Cavendish, which had never been removed from the room in which his body was first brought after the murder. No wonder Sir George Trevelyan's hair turned white at the Irish Office. There are many other stories, for which we are grateful, though we think we might have been spared the recital of Canterbury and Lord Melbourne and Lord Westbury's anecdote, though it is quite possible that the younger generation has not heard them. We put with regret from the well-known and honorable man of the book of one who was not only a great man but the skill to play them. Saturday Review.

HONGKONG SHARE MARKET.

In their Weekly Share Report Hongkong, Friday, January 19, Messrs. Benjamin, Kelly and Potts, state:—

Owing to the near approach of the Chinese New Year, coupled with difficulties in financing, business has been very slack during the period under review and stocks generally show a slight decline on previous quotations. The China Permanent Loan and Mortgage Company, Limited, has convened an Extraordinary General Meeting for the 23rd January, to consider the Resolution to double the Capital of the Company by the creation of 20,000 new shares of $50 each. The Hongkong, Canton and Amoy Steamship Company, Limited, has advertised its Sixty-seventh Half-yearly Meeting for the 1st February. The transfer books will be closed from the 10th instant to the 10th of the month. The Kowloon Land and Building Company, Limited, has given notice that its Eleventh Ordinary Meeting will be held on the 6th February. The transfer books will be closed from the 27th instant to the 6th of the month. Bankers—Hongkong and Shanghai Bankers were sold at 347 per cent. premium but have dropped to 245 per cent. premium. The London quotation is 251 1/2. Subject to audit, the Directors propose to pay a dividend of 2 1/2% and a bonus of 10% per share, transfer $300,000 from Profit and Loss Account to credit of Reserve Fund and carry forward about $665,000. Nationals have been doing at 226. Marine Insurance—Yangtze are enquired for at 112 1/2. Insurance—Hongkong Fives have been bought at 332 1/2. Shipping—Hongkong, Canton and Amoy Steamships are quiet with sellers at $31. Indo-China are firm and have buyers at $88. China and Manila have been placed at $85 and are wanted. Douglas Steamships are on offer at $31. Refineries—China Sugars are out of favour at 118. Mining—In Paojones a fairly large business has been done at 288 and 292. Chinese Bankers have been negotiated at $330. Queen Miao have been sold at 30 cents and are obtainable. Yehus have changed hands at $12 and close steady. Rauha have been bought at $61 and $61 1/2. Oliviers '21' have been fixed at $3. Docks, Wharves and Godowns—Hongkong and Whampoa Docks are quiet with sellers at 510 per cent. premium. Kowloon (Wharf shares) are sold at $38 and are obtainable at 84 1/2. Wanchai Warehouses are in demand at 84 1/2 ex the dividend of $1 1/2 paid on the 16th instant. Land, Estate and Building—Hongkong Lands have been sold at declining rates down to $110 and close with buyers at $120. West Point are offering at $35. Hongkong Hotels have been done at 123, 122 1/2 and 122. Humphreys Estate are at $250 and are more wanted at $150 buyers. China Provident have been taken off the market to a moderate extent at $9.20 ex the dividend of 30 cents paid on the 17th instant. Cotton Mills—There is no business to report.

Miscellaneous—Green Island Cement is easier and are in the market at 229. A. S. Watson have been done at $16 and $16 1/2. Electric have been dealt in extensively at $9 1/2 and $10. Ropes have experienced a big rise and have been fixed at $250 and are more wanted at $150 buyers. Tenants have advanced to $150 buyers. Fees are enquired for in small lots at $150. Dairy Farms have been sold at $6 and close in demand.

For the past quarter of a century there has been a continuous flow of letters bearing testimony to the truly wonderful success of the Budget which selected this great change in taxation. It is interesting to learn how so unimpeachable an authority that Lord Randolph Churchill's 1887 Budget, which was all out and tried before his resignation, and which we suppose will see the light when his papers come to be published, would have been the most original and important of the century. It was not however alone in the official capacity that Sir Algernon West played a quiet but important part in the politics of his day. Mr. Gladstone would use him as a go-between and would receive him long after his short-lived Government in 1886. Mr. Gladstone asked Sir Algernon whom he would propose as Chancellor of the Exchequer, and West suggested Mr. Chamberlain, but Sir Algernon was sure the City been killed by the villagers, angry at the invasion of the usual properties in the looting of a rich man who had no connection with "religion" of any kind, as all the villagers assured the leaders, though at the time they would not listen. Later, they were good enough to send a card admitting that they were in error in this particular, but they intended to make reprisals on the remaining Christians to repay the losses which the rich man had innocently suffered.

Up to the close of the year, it is evident that the number of Roman Catholic families robbed has been equal, in fact being equivalent to a whole. Catholic population a many counties. The Presbyterians, London Mission, and the American Board Mission have between them had probably more than two hundred families pillaged, and perhaps twenty or more chapels attacked, some of them entirely wrecked, and others comparatively unharmed.

Who is ultimately to pay for all this carnal of crime and lawlessness may in time be a matter of more interest to the district magistrates than it is at present. The mortality has dropped very near to zero, and the sufferings of the poor who have been despoiled of everything to eat, to burn, and to wear, must be acute, and to relieve them it is at present possible to do very little. The dawn of the New Year brings to this distracted region very little that Peace on Earth and that goodwill to men, which it is the function of the holiday season in other parts of the world to disseminate. This state of things we hope will soon be materially altered.

Editorial Comment.

The recent murder of two French naval officers at Kowloon, and the subsequent arrest of a Chinese coolie, have been the subject of much discussion.

January to recall a few facts regarding the arbitrary murders committed by Chinese in Indo-China and the neighbouring provinces.

The recapitulation of the gruesome details of these murders and the consequences that accrued was undertaken by our Hapshong contemporary evidently with the object of indicating the long-suffering nature of the complaint the residents of Indo-China have against the Chinese government and its officials, and the very inadequate reparation that has been afforded to the French authorities as compared with the concessions afforded to England—the ports that have been marked by the dead of England. In this connection mention is made of the murder of Mr. Mancini, male of the river steamer Mangrove, who while engaged with the Joan Dupuis expedition was killed by the order of Anauite mandarins. In this case, Mr. Turo, French Consul at Haiphong, asked for and was awarded an indemnity of one thousand francs. Shortly afterwards a rich Chinese merchant, a naturalized British subject from Singapore, interested in the Dongtrung coal mines, made a strong protest to the Tonkin Vice-roy regarding certain treatment he received in the territory under that official's jurisdiction. The Vice-roy promptly decapitated the complainant on the spot. Again Mr. Turo demanded an indemnity, and several hundreds of thousands of francs were paid to the family of the deceased. The strongest comparison, however, is drawn in the case of Mr. Margary, interpreter to the British Consulate at Peking, who was assassinated during a survey mission for a railway through China from Burma and India. Sir Thomas Wade, finding the Chinese rather dilatory in coming to a settlement regarding the indemnity, left the Legation in Peking, and the result of this decisive move was that on arrival at Tientsin he was informed that the Chinese authorities were willing to accede to his every request. Sir Thomas Wade profited by the occasion to sign the Convention of Chefoo, according to which two new seaports, Wuhu and Wenschow, and an indemnity of 500,000 francs to the family of the deceased. Since our contemporary dealt with the subject an indemnity has been paid in respect of the murder of the naval officers at Kowloon.

The Local Share Market.

In his weekly share report of this date, Mr. Erich Gong writes:—I have to report on a very dull and weak market, hardly anything of importance having transpired during the week under review, and with few exceptions rates have followed a downward tendency. The near approach of the Chinese New Year, as well as the difficulty in obtaining financial accommodation, is responsible for that, and we can only hope for a revival of trade after the holidays.

The Ceylon Volunteers.

The Times of Ceylon of the 4th inst. says:—The subject of the intentions of the Government in the matter of the Ceylon Company of the Imperial Yeomanry is to be brought up in Council on Wednesday next. The matter is an important one, and so is the question of what previous rules disabled men come under. The Hon. Mr. Giles Walker has, we understand, given notice that in Council on the 10th inst., he will ask the Government to pay the expenses of those gentlemen who are volunteering for service in South Africa, including cost of horses and equipment. Passages have already been promised for the official reply on the other side will in doubt be locally available by a good many.
